

Eclipse

Catherine Brentnall

Verse 1

Ev'rything is quiet,
Ev'rything is still,
And even though it's day,
It seems like dusk,
As the sunlight fades away.
Animals are quiet,
Birds fly home to roost,
As though the day is done.
We're witnessing
A wond'rous phenomenon.

Chorus

A solar eclipse is nigh,
The Sun and the Moon align in the sky.
The Moon blocks the Sun's great light,
An extraordinary sight.

Verse 2

In the sky such sights,
Stars shine brighter now,
With planets shining too,
For all to see,
Space's glory in full view.
As we stand and stare,
We must not forget,
How lucky we all are,
To witness this
Eclipse of the greatest star.

Chorus

A solar eclipse is nigh,
The Sun and the Moon align in the sky.
The Moon blocks the Sun's great light,
An extraordinary sight.

A solar eclipse is nigh,
The Sun and the Moon align in the sky.
The Moon blocks the Sun's great light,
An extraordinary sight.
An extraordinary sight.
