

Nobody Knows

Iain Gilmour

Verse 1

Mary Rose was lost in a battle,
In fifteen forty-five.
No-one knows what caused that to happen,
Just thirty-five survived.

Could it be because of the weather,
Caught the crew by surprise.
A sudden gust of wind blew her sideways,
Making her capsize.

Chorus

Nobody knows what really happened,
Except the ship went quickly down.
Nobody knows what caused the tragedy,
On the day when the Mary Rose went down.

Verse 2

Could it be there were too many cannon,
When the ship set sail.
So, she sat too deep in the water,
Did the gun ports fail?

Chorus

Nobody knows what really happened,
Except the ship went quickly down.
Nobody knows what caused the tragedy,
On the day when the Mary Rose went down.

Bridge

We know how they lived,
We know how they died,
We know how they worked and played.
We know all of this,
From what's been recovered,
But we'll never know all their names.

Verse 3

Could it be because of the captain,
Gave a wrong command.
Could it be an enemy cannon,
Fired by a foreign hand.

Chorus

Part 1

Nobody knows what really happened,
Except the ship went quickly down.
Nobody knows what caused the tragedy,
On the day when the Mary Rose went down.
The day when the Mary Rose went down.
The day when the Mary Rose went down.

Part 2

Nobody knows what really happened,
Except the ship went quickly down.
Nobody knows what caused the tragedy,
On the day when the Mary Rose went down.
The day when the Mary Rose went down.
The day when the Mary Rose went down.
