

The Writer with The Magic Touch

(Charles Dickens)

Iain Gilmour

Chorus

The Greatest Storyteller of our nation,
Gave us new worlds, taught us so much.
All these decades later still an inspiration,
The writer with the magic touch.

Verse 1

Charles Dickens: born in Portsmouth,
In Old Commercial Road.
Charles Dickens: moved to Kent,
That's where the words began to flow.
Charles Dickens saw injustice, too much poverty and crime,
Charles Dickens gave us characters that stood the test of time.

Chorus

The Greatest Storyteller of our nation,
Gave us new worlds, taught us so much.
All these decades later still an inspiration,
The writer with the magic touch.

Verse 2

You've heard of Christmas Carol,
With mean old miser Scrooge.
And little orphan Oliver,
With Fagin and his crew.
But what about Miss Havesham, or David Copperfield,
Or the Tale of Two Cities where a hero is revealed?
